POINT OF VIEW

Just as in real life, sometimes different characters in stories view things differently. We call this the character's "point of view." Choose an important event from your story and use the boxes to describe that event from the point of view of two different characters in the story.

What's the event?

Character's Name:

Character's Name: